

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

A new industry has come to Washington township. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cadero, formerly of San Francisco, are developing a frog farm between Irvington and Newark. A man by the name of Dargitz also is starting a frog farm. The Caderos say the beauty of raising frogs lies in the fact that the market for frogs' legs never seems to be saturated. Heretofore people in these parts, when they have wanted frogs' legs, have had to go up in the Livermore hills or some such place and fish for the frogs.

Doc Pond gave Joe California his answer this week. Last week California challenged Pond to a skating marathon with a $5 bet on the side. This week Pond has gone on record as declaring: "My conscience would not let me take the money. It would be too easy".

There has been a rumor going around Niles that one of the local hunters went out into the hills the other day and shot what he thought was a two-point buck. When he viewed the corpus delicti after the kill, he found it was a two-point cow. None of his friends will give him away so we can't tell his name.

It is a mystery to us how Joe Bauhoffer keeps so young looking. The other day, we met his son Bill. It was the first time we had known that Joe was old enough to have a grown son. Bill, who is pretty proud of his dad, told us how Joe had come to this country as a young man, had worked in the cheese country around Tillamook, Oregon, to get his start, and how now the Bauhoffer dairy has many head of cattle raises its own alfalfa hay and bottles its own product. Apparently, Joe must have had a good time building his success to us he doesn't loom a day over 25.

Members of Mission Peak council of the I. D. E. S. have a good way of assuring that meetings will be well attended. The member who makes the perfect score in attendance during the past year is allowed to buy a turkey. It doesn't matter if the turkey has to be big enough to feed all his relations; the council will foot the bill.

NILES TO AID IN ALTAMONT FIGHT

HOLY GHOST FIESTA SUCCESS

NILES — The Second annual holy ghost fiesta was a big success. Officials of the S. E. S. lodge report that nearly 17,000 persons attended the parade and the fiesta grounds during the three-day festival.

Hundreds were fed Sunday and Monday under the direction of the lodge members and a crowd of nearly 10,000 saw the fireworks on Saturday night.

The fireworks display included a piece in honor of W. H. Ford who has given the lodge permission to use his land for the fiesta.

Many queens and lodge and civic organizations took part in the parade on Sunday and witnessed the coronation of queen Anna Poati at the church.

Among communities represented in the parade were Newark, Santa Clara, San Leandro, Centerville, Mission San Jose, Alvarado, Hayward and Pleasanton. The Amador and Centerville bands provided music.

CREW OF 60 NOW WORKING ON ROAD

NILES—Sixty men are at work this week on the new Alameda creek bridge and the underpass at the Western Pacific crossing near Kimber's and the Vallejo street crossing.

The temporary detour at Vallejo street has been completed and excavation for the underpass is making rapid progress.

Resident engineers say the crew of workmen will grow steadily until there will be between 150 and 200 men at work.

The Vallejo underpass will not be ready for traffic for at least a year, however.

EVELYN BROWN FOILS GUNMAN

WARM SPRINGS—Although she is only 13 years old, Evelyn Brown daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, showed presence of mind Monday night when she foiled a crazy gunman who threatened motorists on the Mission road.

Evelyn was returning from the Niles theatre about 9:30 p. m. with her friend Margaret Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris. She was driving the Brown car.

The girls saw two machines by the side of the road and a man out in the highway waving her to stop.

The girls at first thought it was an officer and slowed the car down. When they stopped, the man stepped into the range of the headlights and flourished a gun at them. When they saw he was no officer, Evelyn stepped on the gas and tore for home.

Officers were summoned and took the man into custody. He had done no damage and apparently was drunk.

W.J. FURTADOS ON WAY HOME

CENTERVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Furtado, who left on May 28 for a trip to the Azores Islands and Portugal, have sailed for New York where they will spend two weeks before starting for home by way of the Panama Canal. They will visit other eastern cities arriving home early in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Silva left Tuesday for a trip through the northern part of the state and into Canada.

COMPETITORS BUY DICKEY'S PLANTS

NILES — Rumor regarding the sale of the W. S. Dickey Clay Products Manufacturing plants at Niles and Livermore became a fact this week with the announcement that five competing firms had bought the properties for the purpose of scrapping them.

Most active of the buyers in the transaction is said to have been the Gladding-McBean company of San Francisco.

The deal was consummated in spite of an active fight by the Niles and Livermore chambers of commerce.

Lester Duffey, superintendent of the two plants, has announced his intention of starting another brick manufacturing company at Decoto within the next few months.

PENNSYLVANIANS TO ORGANIZE FOR FAIR

In the early part of 1911, the Society of Pennsylvania was organized in San Francisco. Those enrolling were native born Pennsylvanians at that time residing in San Francisco, and in towns throughout Northern California, and the purpose of the society was to spread propaganda to friends, relatives and former neighbors in their native state about the then proposed Panama Pacific International Exposition of 1915.

On Thursday evening, June 13 last, the old-time organization was again revived. This time it is for the Golden Gate International Exposition, a pageant of the Pacific, of 1939.

A meeting of this newly instituted society has been called by the vice-president, William Hollander, the well-known Oakland attorney, for tonight, Thursday, July 30, at 8 o'clock at the Leamington hotel, 19th and Franklin streets, Oakland. A large attendance of native born Pennsylvanians now resident throughout Alameda county is expected. The guest speaker of the evening will be a representative from the Exposition Company of San Francisco, who will enlighten those present with details of the Great Fair of 1939.

There is a very interesting program arranged for this evening, when several officers from the society in San Francisco will also be on hand with some valuable information.

Permanent headquarters will be ready about the first week of August. The charter roll is still open for enrollment.

The forthcoming exposition of 1939 is an enterprise of interest to all Californians and especially to those residing in the Bay area, and it is up to them to spread propaganda and acquaint the world with this great enterprise.

EBRIGHTS PLAN NEW RESIDENCE

Plans have been let to local contractors by Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ebright for their new home, which will be built on the Niles-Mission Road property recently purchased by them from William Eberley.

The house will be a charming example of Early American architecture of the one story type.

WARM SPRINGS TO OPEN SCHOOL

WARM SPRINGS—Plans for a dance and program to celebrate the completion of the new school building at Warm Springs have been made for Saturday August 29, by the members of the community.

Warm Springs people are proud of their new building and urge township residents to attend the affair.

RHODES WILL BE IN NILES SOON

NILES—"Rhodes", the story of the young British boy who carved an empire out of the wilds of Africa is the high point in next week's bill at the Niles theatre.

Walter Huston, famous character actor, takes the part of the hero who made his fortune in the Kimberly diamond mines and played an important role in the Boer war.

The story is a tragic one because Rhodes did not live to see his dream fulfilled but the picture is exciting with its background of jungle wars and high adventure.

Tonight theatre patrons will see the comedy "And So They Were Married." Benjamine Mary Astor and Melvyn Douglas have the lead roles.

Saturday will be devoted to two exciting stories. Richard Arlen will play the lead in "The Mine With the Door" and Buck Jones will appear in "For The Service".

Followers of Jane Withers, child character actress, will have a chance to see her in "Little Miss Nobody" on Sunday and Monday.

NEWARK SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY

NEWARK—The Newark team defeated the O. K. Batteries team last Sunday by a score of 10 to 5.

The one-armed pitcher, Charves, pitched fair ball for the batteries team until the seventh when he was relieved by Wells. Joseph Amaral allowed six hits for Newark and walked eight men.

Star hitters for Newark were Ornellas, getting three hits for four tries, Lebon who got three for five with one triple. He tried to stretch the triple to a home run but was out at the plate.

Tony Ornellas did some fine playing out in center field. Bert Martel won the gate prize last Sunday.

CHAMBER WILL SEND GROUP TO OAKLAND MEET

NILES—Joining in the fight for improvement of the Altamont pass highway, the Niles Chamber of Commerce this week arranged to co-operate with other southern Alameda county communities in sending a delegation to the state highway commission hearing at the Oakland city hall next Monday.

At a special meeting Monday members heard E. J. Callahan of Livermore speak on the attempts to obtain the necessary improvement of the road. He told how the state had promised construction in 1935 and had not fulfilled its promise.

He declared that the size of the delegations from interested communities apparently has some weight with the states men and he urged that a delegation of several hundred attend the Monday meeting.

President E. C. Grau of the chamber of commerce announced that F. V. Jones, W. B. Kirk, Lester Duffey, Ralph Richmond and A. J. Petsche had agreed to make the trip in behalf of the local chamber.

Callahan told the chamber that he did not believe there is much danger of a new route into the Eastbay district in competition to the Altamont pass for the reason that too many communities would compete for the route.

Silk for High Style Sports Wear

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

MIDSUMMER means sports, and this year sportswear in the fashion picture means silks, for every outdoor activity from golf to swimming or just lazing about.

The smart golfer, this season, wears a simple shirtwaist frock of washable end-to-end or striped silk shirting or of classic silk crepe of marvelous quality or some one or other of the new linenlike silks, if not silk shantung. These smart and practical silk shirtwaists dresses often have fly fronts, tucked bosoms and pockets for your golf tees as the model centered in the picture displays. Blue silk crepe fashions this stylish and practical frock.

Very feminine and graceful for tennis are short dresses of soft silk weaves such as silk jacquards or Chinese silk damasks which are light, cool and comfortable. They are usually cut short, with sun-back décolletage, offering a refreshing contrast on the courts to the shorts and slacks that are so commonly worn. New for the tennis enthusiast is a white jacquard silk crepe frock cut on princess lines with a gored handling, the jacquard patterning showing lively little tennis-playing figures. See a model of this description to the left in the illustration. Note it has a squared décolletage and wide shoulder straps. Culottes are also a practical choice for tennis dresses.

For beach and bathing very smart women are wearing silk. The newest mode going is the little dressmaker suits fashioned whimsically of plain or printed silk crepes, silk shantungs and other novelty silks. Kind to the figure are they, being made in one piece effects with pleated or flared shorts. The most practical have matching jackets reaching just to the bottom of the suits as you see pictured to the right in the group. This model is of daisy-printed, dependably washable silk crepe. The shorts are pleated and the loose, matching swagger jacket has a youthful Peter Pan collar.

For the girl with a perfect figure there are also the silk lastex suits which fit the body like a glove and have touches of dressmaker detail at the bosom. The newest trick is to wear them with one's jewels. There is such a variety in silk bathing and beach suits this summer that you can have two or three entirely different types in your outfit wardrobe.

Pajamas are a "must have" for a vacation outfit, whether they are elaborate models that must stay on the beach or in the cabana, or the womanlike strictly tailored types that can safely receive guests in your own home or go out to call informally at an intimate friend's. They are made in tailored silk linens, silk shantungs, novelty sports silks, silk crepes.

Bathing suits with halter bodices and wrap-around skirts made of print silks in gay peasant design are also very goodlooking, and add infinitely to the picturesque beach panorama.

The craze for prints increases rather than languishes. It seems to be prints for everything and instead of growing weary of them there is that in them that intrigues more and more as the season progresses. If the entire costume be not of print then fashion offers a compromise in the way of accessories of vivid silk print. Such accents as belt, triangle scarf and bag of colorful silk print enliven many costumes.

SAILOR SUITS By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Fashions for girls are playing up nautical themes. It is said that "back to school" clothes will adopt such details as lacings and marine insignia. The sailor suit in navy and white of linen or light wool is an immediate favorite and will remain important throughout fall. The "gob" beret in white felt or pic with sprightly ribbon ends over the hair at back is ever so smart to wear with the new sailor-inspired dresses.

BRAIDED ELASTIC MAKES DANDY BELT

Golf is a game where enthusiasts are offered more accessories a season than can be squeezed into a dozen clubroom lockers. All are intended to improve a duffer's game, but most of them turn out to be gadgets that fail their purpose.

One really successful accessory, however, that will be very much in evidence on the golf course this summer, is a belt made of braided, silk-covered, elastic cord. The belt looks like one of the corded belts so popular this season for sports wear. The rubber cord supplies the extra "give" that every sportsman seeks, and makes for maximum playing comfort.

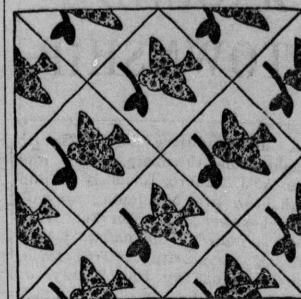

The belts come in the leading summer colors, including black and white combination, polar bear, marine blue and plain white.

Blue Jeans Sportswear Is Popular With Young Folks

Of particular interest to young people is the blue jeans sportswear worn by many of the debutantes. With these navy blue jeans are worn shirts of every shade popular this year, with contrasting ascots and scarves. A popular head-dress is the halo in various colors and materials, which keeps the hair from blowing in the eyes, and is very attractive. For the very active amusements, sneakers are popular, with navy and white the predominant colors.

The tailored suit for week-end trips is much in evidence, as are culottes, tennis dresses and the highly practical three-piece dresses with shirts, shorts and skirts.

Through Panama Canal

If a ship passes through the Panama canal without delay it will take from ten to twelve hours. Of this time three hours are taken up lifting and lowering the ship through the locks. The locks are 110 feet wide and 1,000 feet long. The airplane carrier Saratoga can get through the canal, but with considerable difficulty, as it has only two feet clearance on either side, being 106 feet wide.—Detroit News.

Fulvio Suvich, whose name had been sent to the United States for approval, for the portfolio of next Italian ambassador. Tomatoes With Big Red Ears

Tomatoes are generally conceded to have red cheeks—and the red ears go to good old American corn. Yet if tomatoes could hear all of the nice things housewives are saying about them, they'd surely grow red ears.

Tomatoes are some of the best friends of the housewife. They look pretty, and they taste good—and to top it all, they are very inexpensive.

In fact every dish on the menu, from soup to dessert, and not excluding breads—for there are even tomato breads in these modern days—can be enhanced by the addition of tomatoes.

Tomato salads are stimulating to look at and most delicious to eat—for parties, you'll like this delicious

Frozen Tomato Cream Salad

Cook gently for ten minutes the contents of three No. 2 cans of tomatoes, if you are not fortunate enough to have your own, with three slices of onion, a few grains of pepper, salt to taste and one tablespoon sugar. Press through a sieve. There should be two and one-half cups of puree as a result. Soften one and one-half teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold water, dissolve in the hot puree, then cool. When it begins to get thick, add one-third cup of cream, whipped, and freeze in the refrigerator trays. Serve on lettuce. This serves eight persons.

TWO ICE-CREAM SAUCES

(1) Add toasted California walnuts to heated maple-flavored syrup. Pour over vanilla ice cream.

(2) Melted chocolate peppermints also make a delicious sauce for vanilla or chocolate ice cream.

TWO SANDWICH FILLINGS

(1) Cream cheese with crushed pineapple, drained, a little mayonnaise, dash tabasco sauce. Good on orange bread or gingerbread.

(2) Cream cheese with chopped dried beef, horse-radish or mayonnaise.

SCALLOPED VEGETABLES

Arrange in casserole alternate layers of sliced tomatoes, sliced boiled onions and soft bread crumbs. Bake until brown in hot oven, 375 degrees F.

A casserole of green corn cut from cob, or whole kernel canned corn, fresh or canned limas and Vienna sausages (canned) makes a good summertime main dish. Put together with medium white sauce, add 1 pimiento, cut fine. Bake.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVE

To each quart of berries which have been washed and stemmed use a scant pint of sugar. Put into a kettle and let stand until sugar dissolves.

Stir carefully with a wooden spoon and cook gently until slightly thickened (about half an hour). Put into sterilized jars and cover tightly.

OLD VINTAGE WINES OF THE COUNTRY

DO YOU KNOW THAT

1. The inside of the refrigerator should be washed with lukewarm water and borax to keep it sweet and clean?

2. A piece of charcoal placed on one of the shelves of the refrigerator will absorb all the odors?

3. If a small bell is fastened to the neck of a bottle of poison it will never be mistaken in the dark?

4. Old flannel of all kinds should be kept for the scrubbing and cleaning of paint?

5. If flannel is not available, coarse soft linen, old kitchen towels and crash are very good to use for cleaning paint?

6. Steel knives may be cleaned by rubbing on a smooth board on which a cake of bath brick has been rubbed?

SPICED APPLE MUFFINS

Berries of all kinds, and especially blueberries and huckleberries, are popular preserves or a half-teaspoon of jelly or marmalade may be put in the middle of the mixture, and diced apple is especially good in muffins of many kinds. A little flavor of cinnamon gives them just the delicate spicing they seem to need.

2 cups flour
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

1 egg
3 tablespoons melted shortening
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup finely chopped apple

Sift all the dry ingredients together several times. Beat the egg thoroughly and add the milk and melted shortening. Stir this quickly into the dry mixture, add the apple, and pour into greased muffin pans. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., for about 15 to 20 minutes, depending on the size of the muffins.

Ice Box Cakes

These ice box cakes should be made as individual cakes. Take a vanilla wafer and on that put some whipped cream, another wafer on top of that, and repeat until it is four layers high. On the top layer of whipped cream, sprinkle some fresh cocoanut.

This dessert can be made the night before and it will keep perfect if kept in the refrigerator.

Original Optimist Club

Lloyd's was the original Optimist club. Its motto is: "Most troubles never happen." When most people hear the name of Lloyd's they invariably think of marine insurance, says Pathfinder Magazine. But this great British firm is more than that. It places risks on almost everything but human life. And Lloyd's is not a company or corporation. It is rather an exclusive club of individual speculators. But it is rated as a good paying proposition despite the chances taken. This is attested by the fact that a premium income of over $150,000,000 a year is divided among the "club's" 1,200 members.

Fish Imitates Bass Drum

No sound that arises from a body of water is more uncanny than that produced by the Doradidae, a six-foot species of catfish which inhabits the rivers of South America. His powerful air bladder throbs with such force that its vibration sounds like the rhythmic beating of a bass drum under water, writes James Aswell, Nashville, Tenn., in Collier's Weekly. The natives, appropriately, call this fish the "Boom Boom."

Unique Among Capitals

Washington is unique among the capitals of the world because it was planned with the express purpose of being made so. Soon after the War for Independence the necessity for a permanent seat of government was felt. In 1791 a site on the banks of the Potomac was chosen. The tract of land was first called Territory of Columbia which later became the District of Columbia.

Melting Pot of Europe

Seeing the variety of race is part of the fascination of traveling in Europe. There are recognizable descendants of Spaniards in Holland, of Hollanders in Denmark, of Scots in Norway, of Germans in Russia, while the British Isles are a melting pot in which every nation of Europe has mingled.

Old Adriatic City

Murano has been the center of the Venetian glass industry for 700 years. Here was the art school that gave us Bellini, Tintoretto, Giorgione and Titian, but there is little to see now besides the glass collection at the Palazzo Comunale and the decaying cathedral.

How Pockets Started

Coat pockets, as is almost universally known, are the outcome of the slit in the coat which was made many years ago to permit the sword handle to protrude. There is an equally good explanation for practically every little touch in the man's wardrobe.

Benedictine Monastery

About half way between Rome and Naples is Monte Cassio. Fourteen centuries have passed since St. Benedict, the monk, established a monastery there—the beginning of the widespread and influential Benedictine order.

Indians Like to Barter

With the Indians of Mexico bargaining is a custom and a sport and they are unhappy if the customer will not bargain. They begin bargaining with the statement, "This is the asking price; you offer."

How We Perspire

The amount of perspiration normally discharged by a healthy person varies from about one and a half to five pints a day. The amount increases with exercise and high temperature.

Borrowing Thoughts

"To borrow another's thought," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is like borrowing another's raiment. However handsome it may be, it will not precisely fit your personality."

Space and Eternity

"When you have explained space and eternity," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "you may claim to have learned the first two letters in the immense alphabet of knowledge."

Bringing Happiness

When persons only wish for the happiness of another, and when they never pass a day without doing a kindness, how can they be otherwise than happy?

Synthetic Jewels Old

Synthetic jewels were first produced a century ago when the French chemist Gaudin fused alumina, variously colored, in an oxyhydrogen flame.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup applesauce, unsweetened
1 teaspoon soda

½ teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg and salt
2 cups flour
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream the butter, then add sugar gradually. Add the beaten egg and the applesauce, into which the soda has been stirred.

Sift the spices and flour together and add to the mixture. Stir in raisins and nuts. The consistency of the batter will depend upon that of the applesauce used, so that more flour may be added if necessary. Mix well and drop from a spoon onto a cookie sheet and bake in a quick oven 375 degrees F., for about ten minutes, or until done.

The Perfect Summer Dessert

Cut chilled cantaloupe in slices 1 inch wide, remove seeds and peel; fill the centers with raspberries or sliced peaches, sugared. If desired garnish with whipped cream or mayonnaise into which cream has been folded.

Perfect assurance: The belief of the average politician that he speaks for the people.

SACRAMENTO—More than 1200 4-H club boys and girls from all over California will invade the state fair grounds at Sacramento, September 11, to spend the day the fair, opening September 5 and closing September 14.

A trek to the fair will climax a three-day conclave at the University farm at Davis, under the direction of Professor B. H. Crocheron. The boys and girls will make the trip by special train from Davis, arriving at the fair grounds at 9 a. m.

Exhibits of the 4-H Clubs will be the final showing of animals selected at preliminary displays in counties. The exhibits are individual projects to which the club members have devoted their labors for several months. Many cups, trophies and prizes will be awarded by individuals and agencies in California to winners of livestock exhibits.

Masonic Home News

— by —
JAMES H. HEATH

News has been received by E. B. North, Vesper Lodge, Red Bluff, that the lodge in which he and his brother, D. B. North, received their Masonic degrees in 1884 has financed the building of a temple to cost over $5000. While retaining its old name of Table Mountain lodge, where the Norths were early candidates for the degrees when located at Cherokee, it was relocated at Bidwell Park and again at Paradise, the present location. It has the distinction of being the third oldest masonic lodge in California, according to Ed. North, for the past six years a member of the Decoto Masonic Home.

The temple, North is informed will be a two story structure 32 by 70 feet and will be constructed of native rock. A banquet hall will occupy the ground floor with lodge rooms above. North, who has been under the impression that his old lodge had surrendered its charter is pleased to be informed to the contrary.

Henry Bader, King Solomon lodge, San Francisco, returning from the Shrine convention at Seattle, is showing his friends at the Home a copy of the Tacoma News containing an interesting group of pictures reminiscent of better than a generation ago when he was active as a newspaper advertising man in the Tacoma section. Bader made the trip north as the guest of Dr. Fred A. Steinman Jr., San Francisco, whose picture appears with that of Bader in the lay-out, having been taken while on his trip.

An interesting event the past week was the visit of Fruitvale Chapter, Order of the De Moity, which conferred the first degree of this fast growing organization of prospective masons young men, many of whom will later become members of the masonic fraternity. The one candidate of the occasion will doubtless be proud of the fact in the after years of his life that he had received the first degree in the temple of the Decoto Home which thought was expressed by Supt. Hartman in his remarks at the close of the work. The ceremonies were in charge of the regular officers of the chapter, under direction of Gordon Gracie, Master Counsellor.

Voice was given by the Master Masons to the wish that the chapter might arrange for the conferring for the colorful second degree in the temple in the near future. On Sunday, July 26 the afternoon religious service was conducted by the Rev. Mark Repenmark, vicar of Trinity Episcopal church at San Jose. He was accompanied by a dozen members of his parish, one of whom rendered a group of songs.

Louis XIV's Bathtub
Louis XIV's bathtub, exhibited at Versailles, measures 10 feet 6 inches across, weighs ten tons and is a charming shade of bouclair pink. For the last 200 years the tub had been passed from owner to owner, most of the period in France. At one time it belonged to Mme. de Pompadour who used it for the central attraction in a rock garden. It was found at Le Vesinet and returned by the Ministry of Beau-Arts to the Palace of Versailles. The great weight of the bathtub is caused by its architectural ornamentations, which are an integral part of the tub itself.

Freight trains nowadays act like express specials. New freight schedules are so fast, sometimes wonder if everything has to be delivered day before yesterday.

Many of our passenger trains are running faster schedules, too. Well, one thing is sure. We make faster runs, but the first railroad commandment is still "Safety First." That's one rule they won't change.

Western railroads and allied industries provided jobs for 750,000 workers last year. Some of them live in our town. Good neighbors.

Passenger fares are now the lowest in history with substantial reductions on round trips. And no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

This Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight—I heard some traveling salesmen talking about it on the train yesterday. They said it saves shippers a lot of money and centers all responsibility on the railroad. The railroad picks up the freight at shipper's door and delivers it at receiver's door. Of course, the local delivery men get the haul from door-to-door and car-to-door at both ends. But the railroad handles the whole transaction.

When railroads are busy, I notice towns along the railroad are prosperous. The merchants put more ads in the newspapers.

Wearproud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

COMMITTEE EYES SIREN PROBLEM

CENTERVILLE — A meeting will be held this week by the committee appointed at the last meeting of the Lions' Club to investigate community sentiment in regard to the siren recently installed by the Club. The siren which is sounded at 8 A. M., 12 Noon, and 6 P. M. has met with some unfavorable comment from residents near the center of town where the siren is located.

According to M. W. Lewis, chairman of the committee, the question of what and how long the siren should be blown will be put

EMERSON YOUTH HURT IN MISHAP

CENTERVILLE — George Emerson Jr., who was injured when his bicycle collided with a small Ford truck on the highway near Livermore last Thursday, was removed by ambulance from the Mountain Hospital in Livermore Sunday morning to Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

The accident occurred while enroute to the cave of Joaquin Murietta back in Livermore in company with seven other Scouts of the Centerville Troop. James M. Nunes, Centerville Scout Master, having sent his machine on with supplies for the overnight stay, was traveling by bicycle with the boys.

Scout Emerson's bicycle is said to have swerved, throwing its rider in the path of the machine driven by John Michels Sr., farmer from the Brushy Peak district in which locality the caves are situated. The young rider received a double fracture of the femur bone. Michels' was overturned by the impact and the front wheel was broken.

All persons connected with the accident highly commended the new scout master for his handling of the matter.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS REPORTED BY FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT

Production in the Twelfth Federal Reserve district in June remained near the May level, and during the first half of 1936 averaged considerably higher than in the first half of 1935. Similar half-year period comparisons show that industrial employment advanced moderately and that pay roll gains were somewhat larger than increases in the number of wage earners employed. Increases in output, in industrial employment, and in wage payments took place principally in the durable goods industries. Value of building permits advanced further in June to the highest level in over five years, and contracts awarded for engineering construction increased moderately. Measures of the distribution of goods, after adjustment for seasonal influences, were all higher in June than in May and substantially above the level of a year earlier.

District lumber production declined more than seasonally in June, entirely because of a reduction in output in the important Douglas fir area, but remained substantially above the levels of a year earlier. New orders changed little and continued below production. District steel mills continued to operate at near-capacity levels and for the first half of 1936 production averaged about 40 per cent larger than in the comparable period last year. Cement production was substantially higher during January-June 1936 than a year earlier, and the number of automobiles assembled at Pacific Coast plants increased about 25 percent. Daily averages of crude oil and gasoline output were the same in June as in May and have been substantially larger this year than last. Production of district food industries was about the same in the first six months of 1936 as in the comparable period last year. Department store sales during the second half of June, after payment for veterans' service bonds had started, were 16 percent larger than in a comparable period of 1935, while for the first half of the month the increase was 9 percent. Registration of new motor vehicles advanced sharply. Freight carloadings and intercoastal shipments through the Panama Canal increased more than seasonally during June.

Oh, It Is a Glorious Thing To Be an English Judge

London.—To be a British judge is no penny-ante affair so far as clothes are concerned. Although a high ranking judge may earn $25,000 a year, a good share of his first year's salary must go toward buying court attire.

His full get-up is likely to cost him about $2,000. At civil trials in winter time he must wear a black robe, scarlet girdle, ermine cuffs and hood.

For civil trials in summer he wears lighter robes of various colors.

And in criminal trials and appeals he appears in scarlet robe with ermine trimmings.

The Township Register

An Independent Newspaper

Carl S. Kelty

Henry Alderman

Published Every Thursday

Subscription Price $2.00 per Year. (In Advance)

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Niles, California, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Determined a Newspaper of General Circulation by Decree of the Superior Court (Department 6), of Alameda County, California.

THE SUPERVISORSHIP

When we took over the management of the Township Register six months ago, we announced that we would make no effort to take part in local political affairs until the community had come to know us and until we had come to know the community.

The supervisorial elections are near at hand and naturally our support has been solicited by candidates and friends of candidates. We have announced that all three men will be treated alike. Mr. Richmond, Mr. Amaral and Mr. Schween all have their good points.

We are darned if we can see why they want to be supervisor, but since they do, we hope they all will be elected.

No matter what other new routes are or are not developed, the alteration of the Altamont pass highway should not be longer neglected. It will be impossible to abandon the route altogether; therefore, since it must be used, it should be repaired.

Livermore men who have investigated the problem of prodding the state into action, believe that there will be nothing done unless the state men feel the weight of public opinion.

That is always the way with state officials and the only way to deal with them is by putting on pressure.

The Altamont pass means a good deal to Washington township. It is responsible for much traffic through here.

Niles will send delegations to the state highway hearing Monday, and so will Centerville and Newark. Livermore, Hayward and San Leandro will do likewise.

Since the state officials apparently are impressed by numbers, a large delegation is what they should receive.

GALLUP AS A PROPHET

On the face of the record, the findings of Dr. George Gallup's American Institute of Public Opinion can be taken as authoritative.

Gallup has been measuring public opinion since the 1920's. There is plenty of opportunity to judge him by past results. Following are a few of his findings, which have later been borne out by election results:

He was first to show that Landon had passed Borah as favorite among Republicans for the presidential nomination.

He was first to show that Roosevelt is more popular than the New Deal.

He was first to report that Democrats, as well as Republicans think there is politics in relief.

In all these things, he has been proved right. Now, he comes along and says Landon has more electoral votes than Roosevelt. If Gallup's past record is any indication, that statement probably is true.

Although we realize that this editorial is a fine free advertisement for the Oakland Tribune and other papers which carry Gallup's service, we honestly believe that his findings are worth watching.

SPAIN'S CIVIL WAR

Spain's terrible civil war packs potential dynamite that may be detonated in world-wide explosion. Wanton killing, wanton destruction of property with a savagery unknown since the world war makes the world wonder whether civilization is indeed on the brink.

In the Spanish struggle, two conflicting theories of government are represented. The federal power is in the hands of the reds, receiving instruction from Moscow, and covert aid at least from the semi-communist government of France. The objective is to establish the Russian method of soviet communism, with confiscation of private property and destruction of the church.

The so-called rebels consist of a union of property-owning, aristocratic and religious elements, with fascism as their goal. Brains and leadership for the rebel uprising are furnished, it is reported, by a monk.

Victory by either side will, in the view of most commentators, lead to dictatorship, with stern repression of all opposing forces with suspension of freedom of the press and assemblage—in short, a tyrannical despotism.

A TRAMP READS A ROAD SIGN

A hundred miles to Exeter,
And ten to Monterey—
But it matters not the road I choose,
With a thick fog either way
That drips upon my sodden pack
And blinds my reddened eyes—
My heart as dull and cold as the mist
That hangs from leaden skies.

A hundred miles to Exeter,
And ten to Monterey—
Who cares? Not one at either end
To say goodbye or stay.
A hundred miles? ... Yes, Exeter!
It will be better so,
For it matters not whether east
or west,
When a man has no place to go.
And the farther I walk, the farther I'll be
From the thing I left behind ...
When you're running away from something that's dead,
It is only the miles that are kind!

ENOS HENDRICKS

PASSES AT HOME

ALVARADO — Enos Hendricks of Alvarado passed away at his home here on Saturday, August 1, a victim of pneumonia resulting from injuries sustained in a fall from a window of his home. A picket fence was struck in the eight foot fall fracturing the ribs of the left side.

The deceased was a native of Alvarado and was 61 years of age. He is survived by a son, Wilbert, a daughter, Lois and a grandson, Rodney Hendricks. He was the son of Mrs. Henrietta Vargas; brother of A. E. Vargas and Manuel Hendricks of Alvarado and Mrs. Minnie Perry of San Leandro.

The funeral was held Tuesday, August 4, at 8:15 from Botello's Chapel of the Palms, thence to St. Anne's Church, Alvarado, where a requiem Mass was celebrated at 9:30 A. M. Interment took place in Holy Ghost Cemetery Centerville.

France, under the leftist premiership of Leon Blum, acknowledged communist, would go directly to the aid of the red forces in Spain if she dared. Russia's interests lie in the same direction. Hitler and Mussolini want the fascist, or rebel force to win. France has not dared to help the reds, openly, fearing to provoke Germany and Italy. A number of Italian planes have been furnished to the rebel forces, according to the dispatches, but whether with Mussolini's sanction has not developed. Germany and Italy will not openly aid the rebels, with the shadow of Russia's huge army in the background.

The danger is that some unforeseen incident will produce a crisis, with Germany and Italy lining up on one side, Russia and France on the other. Each side would have powerful Balkan allies.

Great Britain, traditionally working to preserve a balance of power in Europe, with herself dominant, would be hard put to it in event of war. England has a stronger tradition of democratic government than any continental power. To the people of no nation is war so repugnant as to the English, yet they rally to war emergency with a unanimity perhaps unparalleled by any other nation, save perhaps the United States.

England is far from being communist, and if the explosion comes she will likely be found on the side battling against a world-dominant Russia.

City Life

AS SEEN FROM WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

Some of the wild creatures whose very existence in the country depends on keeping away from predatory man are learning that city life offers sanctuary—dubious to be sure, but better than the eternal vigilance essential in their native heath. Tens of thousands of wild doves are slain in California every year in the name of sport—although where the sport is found in destroying such beautiful, inoffensive creatures does not appear. Now the wiser doves are moving to the cities where they nest and rear their young. In the city the greatest hazard to doves is boys with air rifles. Doves do not get run over and killed by autos as does an occasional pigeon. Doves nest in tall trees. Every city neighborhood, especially in Southern California, has one or more pairs. Unlike pigeons again, which flock together in bands, doves keep in pairs. They mate for life and take turns incubating the eggs until the new brood appears and is taught to fly. When one is killed the mate does not long survive. Quail are even more adaptable to city life. People living at the edge of Sutoro forest in San Francisco are familiar with the ways of quail. Golden Gate park likewise is full of quail. Where regular food is provided the quail learn to expect it. In droves they come out of the forest at dawn and make their demands in no uncertain terms. Some householders buy wheat by the sack to feed their quail, provide dust baths and pens of water. A few residents point with pride to skunks which have partly adopted them. The skunk walks in majesty dignified and unafraid. He is a charming creature if not attacked or frightened, easily familiar when fed regularly. Cats get along well with skunks, but when dogs appear complications are likely. You can't bury a dog for a week.

"Bank Night" is now a feature of picture theaters in the cities, as well as the smaller towns. A percentage of the receipts is set aside and awarded by lot one evening each week to a name drawn from a box or barrel which is whirled on an axis to insure thorough mixing of the slips bearing the names. To win, the owner of the name drawn must be present in the theater. The lure of a sizable chunk of money for nothing serves to draw attendance to the theater. If the prize is not claimed for several weeks in succession, the fund is added to the prize for the following week. In San Francisco about a year ago, $5000 was awarded by one theater in a "bank night" drawing. Inventors of the scheme had it patented, and it has spread all over the United States until the owners of the patent are said to be drawing $600,000 a month in royalties.

Five years ago an epidemic of unprecedented violence and extent swept the cities of the nation. It took the form of a swarm of miniature golf courses.

Miniature or pee-wee golf is played with golf balls and clubs, but the holes are simply designed for putting. There are no distance shots, no driving. Ingenious obstacles are devised, some with mechanical and electrical effects calling for a high degree of skill to surmount. It is a sort of glorified croquet.

The depression was under way, bonds were going sour, real estate was a drug on the market. People having money idle in the bank seized the opportunity to gain what appeared to be a large and certain profit.

Pioneer pee-wee golf courses coined money. Daily receipts of some were in the hundreds of dollars, with long lines of people waiting their turn at the gate. National magazines burgeoned with articles describing the craze. New courses were laid out by high priced architects. Prices for materials soared. The courses covered tracts ranging in size from a fifty foot lot to a quarter block, and costing from two or three thousand dollars up. In Los Angeles over $150,000 was expended in fitting out one course and it was opened with a barbeque, brass band and flood lights. In Los Angeles county almost 500 courses were completed in three months.

Then the craze died as suddenly as it had broken out. It was like the lamented mah jong, only worse. In two weeks courses were deserted that had been crowded day and night, with a line of clients waiting their turn. Some owners hung on bravely through the winter and spring months that followed, hoping for a revival of interest. But one by one nearly all threw up the sponge, and by the end of the season the game was as dead as a mackerel.

Now pee-wee golf is coming back, but in a dignified respectable way. A few owners who did not lose faith and kept plugging through the lean years, are reaping their reward. Warm evenings their courses are crowded.

True, prices are only 15 cents or a quarter where five years ago they were 50 and 75 cents. But competition is small, turnover fast, expenses are low and profits satisfactory. Most of those who held on owned their courses outright—no ground lease rent or mortgage interest to pay, they performed all the work themselves until business picked up recently.

"It" in Other Words

A movie star is attractive, says Dr. W. A. Nicholl, a Beverly Hills (Ill.) physician, because he or she possesses: "Psychogenic, or psychometric perception, or psychometric conflicting magnetism, or psychogenic positive magnetism." That, he said, is what Elinor Glyn called "it."

Bethany Falls Limestone From Huge Missouri Mine

The name Bethany Falls lime is derived from an eight-foot waterfall over an outcropping at Bethany, Mo. The primary outcropping near Winterset, Iowa, was formerly called the Earlham ledge, and extends southward to Pleasant Hill, Mo., where it is only ten feet thick.

It is encountered at various depths, from the exposed ledges enhancing Swope Park, Penn Valley and other sections, to a level of 240 feet beneath the soil surface at Smithville, Mo.

Underneath Kansas City, where the strata are known as the Kansas City series, the Bethany Falls ledge is the thickest, measuring 24 feet through. It is hardest and best just east of the city, and rated next is that mined at Winterset.

Several mines are located within this territory, and Dietz Hill, on Southwest boulevard at Twenty-ninth street, is on the western border. Just east of Leeds, on highway 40, is an abandoned mine, and others temporarily closed are at Fifty-fourth and Lister and Seventy-sixth and Cleveland streets, the latter now used to grow edible mushrooms, and at Birmingham, Mo.

The Missouri mine was started in the summer of 1927. The hill is 80 feet high and the mine entrance is level with the road. The great excavated caverns are all on one level and extend northward into the hill, the entire mine being 1,800 feet long and 1,200 feet wide. It is 18 feet from the floor to the ceiling. The pillars consist of the limestone not cut away and are 30 feet in diameter. They are set apart 60 feet, from center to center, this leaving actually 30 feet of span between them. Air shafts are at convenient intervals, the deepest being 60 feet through the ceiling to the top of the hill, says the Kansas City Star.

Italy Organizes Troupes for Unemployed Actors

Rome.—The government has come to the aid of unemployed actors by organizing 12 first-class dramatic companies.

Other traveling groups also are to be organized. Another assistance to actors has been provided by model contracts drawn up with government approval by the Theater and Cinema federation.

A bureau for organization of the theatrical season has been established. Besides adopting regulations for financial arrangements between impresarios and theaters, it will direct region enterprises.

Discovers America Has Best Dancers

London.—American girl dancers are still way ahead of their English sisters, declares Mistinguette, darling of the French music halls and owner of the "million-dollar legs."

In London for a brief visit, Mistinguette, at sixty-five years, is still the same gay, vivacious person who for so long has been the idol of Paris and other world cities.

"I am looking for some 'attractives,' some English girls, for a new revue in which I am to appear in Paris next month. But I have not been lucky," she sighed. "The girls are pretty, certainly, but they have not got that gaiety, that chic, that sex appeal that American dancers have."

Cultivation of Sympathy

To cultivate sympathy you must be among living beings and thinking about them; to cultivate admiration, among beautiful things and looking at them.

Use of Beagle Hounds

In this country beagle hounds have been adopted as the ideal hound for hunting small game. The scent of this diminutive hound is uncanny and his spirits run highest when cast into open meadows to trail fast-traveling "cotton-tails." These hounds "bring around" the rabbit in the chase and in this manner the hunter has an opportunity to shoot at the fast-moving animal.

Five Million Bid for Hawaii

Records show that a New York business man at one time tried to purchase the Hawaiian islands for $5,000,000. This was in 1853, 45 years before the islands became part of the United States. The records consist of the handwritten minutes of a meeting of the cabinet presided over by King Kamehameha on August 24, 1853. The name of the bidder is not revealed.

Old Scottish Custom

When harvesting time came in Scotland the prettiest girl among the workers in the harvest field was chosen to cut the last sheaf of corn and to decorate it. She was known as the "Hirst Queen," harvest queen. She had to carry the sheaf to the farmhouse to the accompaniment of bagpipes and fiddles, where the sheaf was hung from the rafters in the kitchen and a dance took place in its honor. Sometimes Ceres, the goddess of corn, was represented as a doll. The Hirst queen having cut the final handful of corn would tie it up with ribbons and deck it out in honor of the goddess.

Pyramid Priests of Egypt

The most obvious means to measure the length of the sun-indicated year was to build pyramids sloped to an angle of the sun's elevation at noon, on the first day of the Egyptian spring season (our March 1). The pyramid's pointed shadow on the meridian floor line indicated the moment at noon, when the shortest shadow ended 365-day years on February 28, and their three hundred and sixty-sixth day as leap day on February 29, in then secretly kept leap years.

Jungle Superstition on Trees

Members of a jungle tribe of Bengal are most unwilling to fell trees and when they have to one of the party is always ready with a green sprig which he places in the center of the stump when the tree falls as a propitiation to (or rather as a new home for) the spirit which has been dislodged so roughly, pleading at the same time the necessity for doing so.

Curious Twin Lakes

High on a mountaintop on the island of Flores in the Flores sea is a curious set of twin lakes, says Collier's Weekly. Although separated from each other by only a thin wall of rock, one is colored turquoise-blue while the other is ruby-red. Stranger still is the fact that the water in both lakes has the general appearance and the complete opacity of paint.

Maria Agnesi was a Milanese, daughter of a professor of mathematics. As early as fourteen, her philosophical and mathematical treatises were read by distinguished scholars. Pope Benedict XIV appointed her to succeed her father in the chair of mathematics at the University of Bologna. Bat of Britain

The majority of the 12 British species hibernate either partially or wholly, the period of hibernation varying with the species and temperatures, according to Guy Rollman of the British Museum of Natural History, London. Bats are in the habit of flying more in the early months of the winter than in the later ones, he says, and this may be accounted for, perhaps, by the fact that as the winter progresses so the insect fauna becomes scarce. In the even temperature of churches and caves bats may remain active throughout the winter, when they are able to fly about in these retreats, feeding on such insects as may be available.
